

Special Olympics GB Director of Operations Recruitment Pack August 2026

Introduction

Special Olympics GB is proud to support some of the most inspiring athletes in the world — individuals with intellectual disabilities who compete from local to international levels, breaking down barriers and showing the transformative power of sport both on and off the field of play.

As we enter an exciting new chapter, we are seeking an outstanding Director of Operations to join our Executive Leadership Team. This is a pivotal role for a strategic and values-driven leader who can strengthen our organisation, drive operational excellence and help deliver even greater impact for athletes, families and communities.

Working closely with the Chief Executive, Board and wider movement, you will lead organisational performance across governance, people, systems, planning and delivery, ensuring Special Olympics GB is resilient, ambitious and fit for the future. As Executive Lead for Safeguarding and Welfare, you will champion a culture where the wellbeing, safety and dignity of every athlete remains at the heart of everything we do.

We are looking for someone who:

- Is inspired by the power of sport to transform lives and create more inclusive communities.
- Brings significant senior leadership experience and a track record of organisational development and operational excellence.
- Can translate strategic ambition into effective delivery and sustainable growth.
- Has experience of governance, compliance, finance, risk management and safeguarding.
- Builds strong relationships and partnerships, influencing with credibility and integrity.
- Leads with empathy, accountability and a commitment to inclusion.

About Special Olympics GB:

Special Olympics GB is a dynamic and inclusive charity that transforms lives every day through the power of sport. We provide year-round sports training and competition opportunities for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, enabling them to develop physical fitness, build confidence, make friends, and experience joy through sport.

Special Olympics GB focuses exclusively on individuals with intellectual disabilities — a population that is too often overlooked, underserved, and underestimated. Our athletes face daily barriers to inclusion, from social stigma to limited access to services, education, health and employment. Through sport, we help break down these barriers.

Sport is a universal language — one that speaks in determination, teamwork, and courage. For people with intellectual disabilities, sport provides not just a platform to compete, but a pathway to empowerment. It builds belonging, creates opportunities, and inspires entire communities to think differently about ability.

Special Olympics GB is part of the global Special Olympics movement, which serves over 5 million athletes in more than 190 countries. In Great Britain, we support c13,000 athletes across England, Scotland, and Wales through a network of 100 local clubs and 3,600 volunteers.

Every time our athletes' step onto the field of play, they show what inclusion truly looks like. They represent not just their local community or our nation, but a vision of a more accepting and unified world.

What is intellectual disability?

When a person has certain limitations in cognitive functioning and skills, including communication, social, and self-care skills

Intellectual disability in Great Britain:

- 1.5 million children and adults have intellectual disability
- 36% of adults (19 million) have a connection to, or are aware of, someone with an intellectual disability
- 96% of adults with intellectual disability are unemployed
- 78% of people with intellectual disability do not take part in any sport activity
- 31% of people with intellectual disability live in poverty, compared to 18% of the general population
